Mevotech Supreme front lower control arms CMS30194 and CMS30195 are engineered with an improved stamping profile, with an additional welded reinforcement plate. This adds rigidity and strength to the assembly as the vehicle is motion, reducing stress on the component. Additionally, the ball joint utilizes greaseable self-lubricating sintered bearings and bushing voids are filled-in to enhance durability. New pinch bolt and nut are included for easier installation and coated with a protective anti-corrosion treatment. See Figure 1.
